Public Education

Spending, taxpayer aid, student achievement and other data for every public school district in Kansas.

FACT BOOK

WWW.KANSASPOLICY.ORG | WWW.KANSASOPENGOV.ORG

INTRODUCTION

Aside from ACT scores, all data in this Fact Book come from official government sources, including local school districts, the Kansas Department of Education (KSDE), and the U.S. Department of Education. All data are the most current available and, unless otherwise noted, span the 2024-25 academic year. Additional information (including annual historical data) for individual school districts is available on our transparency site, KansasOpenGov.org, and on the KSDE site at ksde.org.

We compiled this Fact Book because scientific surveys show that citizens are largely misinformed on many pertinent facts of public education in Kansas. Aid and spending per-pupil are much higher than many Kansans believe, and student achievement is lower than understood.

Many Kansas students are doing quite well, but thousands of students each year are falling behind, and a false sense of high achievement is a tremendous barrier to getting them the help they need.

More than 150,000 Kansas students – about one in three – struggle to read. College readiness on the ACT in English,

Reading, Math, and Science plummeted from 32% in 2015 to just 17% in 2025.

It's intuitive to believe that more money is needed to close achievement gaps, but as shown in several tables, student achievement remains low and essentially unchanged despite billions more in taxpayer support.

Table 17 illustrates that many states get the same or better results while spending less than others. For example, Florida and Mississippi spend considerably less per pupil than Kansas but get better results across nearly all the grades, subjects, and income groupings shown. At the very least, this indicates that it is not how much is spent that matters; it is how the money is spent.

Kansas taxpayers are investing heavily in public education. Indeed, Tables 1 and 2 show that taxpayer support of public education in Kansas amounted to a record $8.7 billion, or $18,858 per pupil, in 2025.

Accurate information is necessary for good decision-making.

We hope you find this Fact Book useful as you reach your own informed decisions regarding public education in Kansas.

Source: KSDE. Carryover ratio is the amount of carryover cash reserves in current operating funds at the beginning of a school year as a percentage of current operating spending for the school year, excluding cash and spending from Federal and KPERS funds. School districts that consolidated and no longer exist are reflected in the statewide average but are otherwise excluded in this analysis.

Table 6: Kansas Division of the Budget, FY 2026 Governor's Budget Comparison Report, Schedule 2.2.

Table 7: KSDE

Table 8: KSDE; carryover ratio is the amount of carryover cash reserves in current operating funds at the beginning of a school year as a percentage of current operating spending for the school year. Current operating funds exclude federal, capital outlay, and debt service. School districts that consolidated and no longer exist are reflected in the statewide average but are otherwise excluded in this analysis.

Tables 9 & 10: KSDE, College and Career Ready Standards

Table 11 & 12: National Assessment of Education Progress (NAEP); Kansas Dept. of Education; Bureau of Labor Statistics (Midwest Urban Cities, fiscal year basis). Kansas began participating in NAEP, which is now given biannually, in 1998. Pre-2005 spending is adjusted upward for Kansas Public Employees Retirement System (KPERs) payments.

Table 13: ACT

Table 14: National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP); ACT (Score breakouts by income level not published)

Tables 15 & 16: National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP)

Table 17: Spending is U.S. Census Bureau total spending based on fall headcount (FTE enrollment used for in-state reporting is not published by Census), adjusted for the cost of living per the Missouri Economic Research and Information Center; proficiency level is National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP). An asterisk (*) indicates not enough students to be reported.

Tables 18 & 19: KSDE, certified and non-certified personnel reports

Table 20: KSDE. Total Spending as calculated by KSDE, which is the sum of State, Federal, and Local Aid. Instruction and Administration spending comes from the KSDE Comparative Performance & Fiscal System and reflects current operating spending (no allocation of capital or debt). Spending categories as defined by KSDE accounting manual; total spending includes capital and debt service. FTE = full time equivalent. KSDE accounting procedures require districts that host Special Education Co-ops to record all related expenditures of the Co-op as expenditures of the host district; those expenditures are reimbursed by participating districts, which appears as Local Aid on the books of the host district. (KPI recommends that this procedure be changed so that expenditures are allocated appropriately to each participating district.) Unencumbered Carryover Cash balances exclude all federal funds; current operating funds include all except Capital Outlay, Debt Service, and Federal. “New” indicates a district that has been created since 2005. State assessment results per KSDE; the Kansas State Board of Education reduced proficiency standards starting in 2025, which artificially raises reported proficiency levels.

Kansas Policy Institute is a nonprofit education and research organization. KPI was founded in 1996 and maintains offices in Wichita and Overland Park. We engage citizens and policy makers with research and information to enact public policy solutions that protect the constitutional right to freedom of all Kansans, give them greater access to better educational opportunities, and allow them to keep more of what they earn. Protecting and promoting freedom will improve everyone's quality of life, make Kansas more competitive with other states, and attract new citizens and businesses.

Guarantee of Quality Scholarship

Kansas Policy Institute is committed to delivering the highest quality and most reliable research on state and local issues in Kansas. KPI guarantees that all original factual data are true and correct and that information attributed to other sources is accurately represented.
